2015 Heartlanders/CCI Summer Rally A Step Back in Time

July 20 - 25 at Shipshewana Campground, Shipshewana, IN Pre-rally to the FMCA Rally, Madison, WI. July 29-Aug 1, 2015

A Step Back in Time is what you will find in Shipshewana, IN.

Shipshewana, located in Northern Indiana, is defined by its Mennonite and Amish (the “plain people”) communities and the small town character that make the town so attractive.

Enjoy memorable theater performances, live music, and festivals; tour the back roads in a buggy or carriage; enjoy cafes, diners and restaurants - the ‘home cooking’ is hard to beat.

Amish Country Crafts. Shipshewana is a bustling Amish community with shop-lined streets, specialty retailers and home-style dining establishments that serve bountiful Amish fare. Shoppers search for handcrafted items, baked goods, antiques and more in picturesque turn-of-the-century storefronts and enjoy seeing horse-drawn Amish buggies clop through town. There is so much to experience along the Amish back roads. You won’t want to miss the Amish home cooking, Hudson car museum, Flea Market, and Auction Barn. Every Tuesday and Wednesday from the first of May through the end of October, the Midwest’s largest flea draws serious shoppers and the simply curious.

RV/Motorhome Hall of Fame. Not far from Shipshewana, IN is the RV/Motorhome Hall of Fame located in Elkhart, IN. Looking for some items to refurbish your coach? Some of the largest RV surplus and salvage businesses are located in this area.

Shipshewana Campground - South Park. Offers all the modern amenities you need in the heart of Shipshewana.

2015 Fall CCI Rally

Waterfalls, Wineries and Gorges - Watkins Glen, NY

September 21 - 25, at Watkins Glen, NY, KOA Campground

Waterfalls, Wineries and Gorges? . . . Sounds fun to me! Come join the fun in Watkins Glen and explore this beautiful area with your friends.

Watkins Glen is a village located in the Finger Lakes Region of New York State.

Watkins Glen is home to an amazing blend of natural beauty, high-octane excitement, and world-famous wines and spirits. The area boasts Watkins Glen International Raceway in rolling hills, the Watkins Glen State Park situated in the heart of downtown Watkins Glen (where a stream has cut a deep chasm through the rock cliffs, creating numerous waterfalls and scenic vistas, walk the Gorge Trail through this area), and world-class wineries located near by on the edges of the Finger Lakes.

Race fans know the name "Watkins Glen," and their visits here are often multiple, for much is offered beyond motorsports.

A slow sail across Seneca Lake, a soothing sip of a new wine, an adventurous hike through one of the breathtaking gorges, or a quiet night around a campfire are the counterbalances to the heart-pounding experiences of drivers and machines. Schuyler County residents and visitors who have slowed down – or revved up – both share something special in this scenic spot that is now home to a state-of-the-art international race track. From its waterfalls to its motorsports, Watkins Glen and Schuyler County offers something for everyone to enjoy right in the heart of New York's Finger Lakes Region.

It is a rare find to have such an abundance of natural beauty and amazing attractions. From the pristine lakes, gorgeous waterfalls, and magnificent parks to the charming villages, one-of-a-kind museums, and unique shopping opportunities.

More specifics coming soon . . . registration starts in May. Visit the KOA Campground website at

Your Board

FROM the SENIOR VICE-PRESIDENT by Rod B Kenly

I hope that everyone is enjoying the weather no matter where you are.

As I'm still a worker bee, I don't get to enjoy the fruits of my labor (retirement) like most of you – including my wife. I travel a lot for the job. So last week I was on the east coast, and it was raining, cold and trying to snow. Sitting at the airport getting ready to come home, it changed from rain to snow, and they had to de-ice the plane before we took off.

But when we landed in Los Angeles (at midnight), it was a balmy 65 degrees, and I then got the pleasure of driving another 3 hours to get home.

I'm looking forward to attending the FMCA rally in March that will be in Pomona, CA – the first time there in several years. It will be the third time that I've attended a Pomona Rally.

I've asked the area Vice Presidents to start calling those of you that haven't sent in your dues to renew your club membership. While starting this task, we have found that the software used by the club wasn't sending out notices if you haven't logged in to the new system. I urge you to log-in and look around at all the new features online.

As I write this, there are several big car wrecks being reported on the east coast due to severe weather and icy roads. There are reasons that I live in the desert, and that is one of them.

This month's video, actually I have two.

The first is a basement storage tip from 'RVGEEKS.' He has a couple of tips about storing tips in your basement. I laughed when he mentioned that you didn't think you could lose something in your basement.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Woc6KNC172I>

The second video is also from 'RVGEEKS.' He has come up with a method to fill your 120 psi tires from your on-board air, which is normally very difficult. I haven't tried this yet, but it does make sense. (There is actually a first video that he will send you to understand what he is talking about.)

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=n5fk54DKWpO>

Let me know about my video selections!

See you down the road...

Rod B. Kenly

FROM the SECRETARY by Eric Arnold

Howdy everyone. I hope February finds you all well! We are back home in the Lone Star State after spending the last half of 2014 in the Pacific Northwest. We saw so many incredible things from volcanoes and lava tubes to beautiful beaches and redwood forests. We followed Hwy 101 from Port Angeles, WA, to Monterey, CA. We stopped at every lighthouse in Oregon and are now fans of clam chowder. Every town says they have the best! It is a remarkable part of the country.

The Board meets again the end of February and one of the agenda items we will be discussing is a new Business Partners Marketing Plan proposal. The goal will be to attract a variety of new businesses to support the membership and to hopefully enhance future rallies. Thanks to Tammy Toalson for presenting the proposal! More info to follow.

Spring is around the corner and we can't wait for warmer weather! I hope everyone has gotten their first big road trip of the year planned. Be sure to wave at your fellow Country Coacher's on the road and say howdy when you see one at your destination.

Safe travels!

Eric Arnold

*The Excitement Builds at Country Coach!
Reprint of Country Coach Corporation eBlast
January 2015*

Hi Country Coach owners and friends. I wish you a very happy and prosperous 2015. I have a good feeling about the future of Country Coach Corporation for the coming year. As you know, we are building the first prototype Allure and it will be done and ready for testing late spring. I want to explain my plan for this coach, as I have been asked several times.

I personally am funding the build and this prototype will belong to me. As I did in years past to perfect a new product, I personally would take each one out and really put them through their paces. That along with strong user input in the design process, built the reliable and user friendly coaches Country Coach was so well known for. I am taking the company back to that philosophy. Building this prototype has piqued the interest of several potential funding sources, which is a very good thing.

Hide-A-Bed with Dinette

I can no longer wait for the EB5 funding that we have spent so much time and money trying to arrange, to come to fruition. That is very disappointing for those of us who have worked so hard to move that process forward. The good news is that time has allowed us to complete other projects and get our feet planted more firmly on the ground. We have also expanded and improved our service and parts operation, which are very necessary components for a strong manufacturing company.

I feel Country Coach has been placed strongly back in the market as a viable thriving product. I look at all these things as opportunity, so with that in mind we will press forward in 2015 with anticipation of seeing the start up of manufacturing.

May you enjoy the best of life from your Country Coach.

Family Motor Coaching Chassis Checkup

Excerpts from the February 2015 Issue

See Your FMCA Issue for the Full Article and Details
Authored by Mark Quasius, F333630

Gather Information. You'll need all the service information that pertains to your motorhome. Most owner's manuals include the basics regarding capacities, oil grades, and time and mileage intervals for the various service tasks. Additional details can be obtained by searching the Web.

Engine Oil. Before changing the oil, run the engine until it reaches operating temperature so that the used oil will drain thoroughly and quickly. Contaminants are more likely to be in suspension and will drain out as well. Verify your engine's specs to see how much oil is required.

Fuel System. Diesel engines depend on exact metering and timing of fuel and the heat of high compression to ignite the fuel mixture. The fuel systems required to do this are more complex than those in any gasoline engine. Small specks of dirt can plug injector nozzles or damage fuel-injection pumps, so fuel filtration is critical. A typical diesel fuel system has two filtration stages.

Air Filter. According to diesel engine manufacturer Cummins, it takes only one tablespoon of dirt to ruin an engine. Air filtration, therefore, is important to a motor's longevity. Air filters eventually wear out from age or become saturated with dirt, which restricts airflow. Check the air intake hoses for cracks or loose clamps.

Cooling System. Both coolant flow and system airflow must be kept in optimum shape. The coolant itself also should be replaced according to its specified schedule. Belts and hoses should be checked.

Transmission. Transmission fluid and filters have a definite service life, so be sure to refer to your service schedule to determine when these items should be changed.

Brakes. Air drum brakes generally are equipped with self-adjusting slack adjusters that maintain the correct setting on brake shoes. If your motorhome has hydraulic brakes, the procedures aren't much different from those associated with any other vehicle. Disc brake calipers tend to freeze up over time, especially when an RV isn't driven that often. Monthly driving of your rig is always a good idea. On drum air-brake systems, S-cams, which engage the brake shoes, should be cleaned and lubricated periodically.

Air System. Any motorhome with air brakes or air-ride suspension will be equipped with an air-supply system. It consists of an engine-driven air compressor, various air tanks, an air dryer, and numerous valves and hoses. The filter on the air dryer is designed to last up to three years, but that is just an estimate. It's important to drain the air tanks regularly.

Suspension And Driveline. A motorhome's front-end suspension and driveshaft have a number of grease fittings that regularly require fresh grease. Check to determine if you have solid front axle with kingpins where the steering knuckles are attached. This kind of axle needs special attention to grease. Many diesel pushers have oil bath wheel bearings on the front axle as well as the tag axle, if so equipped. Remove the center hub cap to check. Changing the oil, when needed, is an easy task.

Tires. On road trips, a quick visual inspection of the tires and a tire pressure check should be done daily (before the sun heats some tires). When servicing your RV, check for tread depth and carefully inspect the tires for any sidewall cracking or anomalies in the tread, such as rivering or scalloping.
